

PREZ TIDINGS

Well the kilns have been running hot and we've been producing some amazing work! Congratulations to Stacey for winning best pottery exhibit at the Ekka on top of Best Handbuilt and Best Item featuring surface decoration. Right behind her was David with 2nd and third in Surface Decoration. I managed to slip in second ahead of David in the Wheel thrown category while I got an honorable mention for my Artesian Vase in the handbuilt. With all the wonderful work I see coming out of the kiln I'm surprised we don't have more entrants and winners at the Ekka, maybe next year?

Well all I can think about is getting my inventory list done for the upcoming Annual WSC Exhibition - Stacey, Helena and co. have been hard at it organizing this extra large event in the Mt Coot-tha Auditorium with other invited artists so I hope you all come along and see it as a success.

I'm also looking forward to my first Swell Sculpture Festival - I'll be driving so Quiet in The Back!

Done anything interesting artistically lately? Let us know with a few words and photos

Diane also brought along an example of slumped glass tile.

There followed a discussion on glass use with ceramics, temperatures and quantities etc. led by Stacey.

Diane presented a humidity proof salt shaker! No hole? The salt is loaded underneath and salt is presented when shaken - note my first attempt at right!

WSC at the BVAC Arts and Crafts Community Expo

AS well as having a very successful stall we also presented a series of demonstrations.

Hand-building and throwing featured.
